AD's Favorite New American Hotels 2015

Our favorite new Stateside spots should be on your list of where to go next

Located at the center of the Berkshires in western Massachusetts, the city of Pittsfield has long seemed like an ideal hub for exploring the area's natural beauty and cultural attractions. The only thing missing was a stylish hotel—until now. This summer the boutique Hotel on North opened its doors, with 45 tastefully designed guest rooms in a restored 1880s building downtown. From $179/night; hotelonnorth.com
